Country of Publication. From the book The Tightly-Whitey Spider. My dog is not like other dogs. He doesn't care to walk, He doesn't bark, he doesn't howl. He goes "Tick, tock. Tick, tock." He beeps each day at half-past nine. At noon he starts to chime. I have a strong suspicion that my dog can tell the time. Another dog might run and play, or smother me with licking, but my dog just annoys me with his beeping and his ticking. Should you decide to buy a dog, consider my remarks: When looking for a "watch dog," get yourself the kind that barks. " Kenn Nesbitt. Copyright © 2010. All Rights Reserved.
