

The Enforcement of the Statutes of Labourers During the First Decade After the Black Death, 1349-1359, Issue 85, , , , Columbia University, 1908, Bertha Haven Putnam, 1908, 224 pages, 9780404510855

Book Reviews. The Enforcement of the Statutes of Labourers, during the First Decade after the Black Death 1349-1359 by Bertha Haven Putnam. The Enforcement of the Statutes of Labourers, during the First Decade after the Black Death 1349-1359 by Bertha Haven Putnam (pp. 499-500). DOI: 10.2307/3313223. <https://www.jstor.org/stable/3313223>. The Enforcement of the Statutes of Labourers During the First Decade After the Black Death, 1349-1359. New York: Longmans, 1908. Simon A. C. Penn, and Christopher Dyer. "Wages and Earnings in Late Medieval England: Evidence from the Enforcement of the Labour Laws." The Economic History Review, New Series, 43, no. 3 (1990): 356-76. doi:10.2307/2596938. Social Impact of the Black Death. Secondary sources. Wray, Shona Kelly. Communities and Crisis: Bologna During the Black Death. Leiden: Brill, 2009. Black Death in Barcelona. Primary sources. Gyug, R.F. The Diocese of Barcelona during t... The enforcement of the statutes of labourers during the first decade after the black death, 1349-1359 (1908). online. Cohn, Samuel. "After the Black Death: Labour Legislation and Attitudes Towards Labour in Late-Medieval Western Europe," Economic History Review (2007) 60#3 pp. 457-485 in JSTOR. External links[edit]. This article or section appears to contradict itself. Full text of the statute from Yale Law School from en:s>Select Historical Documents of the Middle Ages/Book I/The Statute of Laborers. Full text of the statute from Fordham University. v. t. First published in 1908. Edit. The enforcement of the statutes of labourers during the first decade after black death, 1349-1359. Statutes of labourers. Classifications. Library of Congress.